Sponsor Spotlight Sunday Pond Bed and Breakfast

Dick and Lesley Lyon, FCCC Members and Sponsors are the proprietors of the beautiful Sunday Pond Bed and Breakfast located on (you guessed it ... Sunday Pond!) outside Saranac Lake. This beautiful, serene location is absolutely breathtaking! Sunday Pond has been a bed and breakfast since 1988 ---- named after a delightful pond about five minutes walk through forest preserve land in their backyard.

Prior to 1988 this was their private residence, which we built after moving here from Connecticut in 1974. They had been vacationing here for years and felt there was something very special about these ancient mountains. With their two boys grown and on their own, they decided to share their love of the Adirondacks with others by operating a bed and breakfast. Because of its location,

Sunday Pond B&B attracts people who like to spend most of their time outdoors. Dick and Lesley have generously reduced their rates for our FCCC members during the Cruisin weekend to an unbelievable $55.00 per night—including breakfast. What a deal ... Contact Dick and Lesley

Black Hills Corvette Trip Postponed

This trip has been postponed for a few years. While we are all interested in attending, with many of our members impending retirements, we have decided, upon the suggestion of several members, decided to wait until more members can attend. We have decided to attend the Corvette Extravaganza at Cal Ripkin Stadium in Aberdeen, Maryland, on May 18-20, 2007. More details to follow!

Corvette Convertible to Pace 2007 Indianapolis 500

February 1, 2007 - A 2007 Chevrolet Corvette convertible will pace the 91st running of the Indianapolis 500 on May 27, 2007. As it was selected as the Official Pace Car, Chevrolet will supply several identically prepared and uniquely trimmed Corvette convertibles – in new Atomic Orange paint with distinctive gold ribbon graphics – that will serve in the official pace duties of the race, as well as supporting activities.

Five hundred production replicas of those official cars will be offered to the public – all of them convertibles. They'll be available beginning this spring.

The distinguishing features of the pace car replica convertibles include:

- Atomic Orange exterior color, including door handles
- Indianapolis 500 exterior

graphics – including gold ribbon graphics that flow outward from the front fender vents and “Indianapolis 500” door logos

- Special Indianapolis 500 fender badges
- Z06 rear spoiler
- New aluminum “split-spoke” wheels in Sterling Silver
- Ebony seats with embroidered Indianapolis 500 logos
- Interior trim plate and pods painted Atomic Orange
- Atomic Orange engine covers

All of the pace car replicas are equipped with the Corvette's standard LS2 small-block V-8 and Z51 performance package. A six-speed manual six-speed paddle-shift automatic optional. The navigation system with Bose audio, as well as OnStar, is standard.

Pricing for the pace car replica convertible is $66,995 MSRP, including destination. The paddle-shift six-speed automatic is the only option, which brings the price to $68,245.

The performance-bred Corvette handles its official pace duties in nearly factory-stock trim, with little more than race track-required safety equipment and strobe lights added – as well as, of course, the eye-catching graphics. In years past, many Indy pace cars required extensive modification to perform their on-track tasks. The 2007 Corvette's powertrain and suspension, including the 400-horsepower (298 kW) LS2 small-block V-8 engine, are more than adequate to maintain the speed, acceleration and handling required to lead the pack around the famed “Brickyard” race track.

This year marks the ninth time Corvette has served as the Official Pace Car of the Indianapolis 500. The previous years were 1978, 1986, 1995, 1998, 2002, 2004, 2005 and 2006. It also is a record fourth consecutive turn for the Corvette, as well as a record 18th time for a Chevrolet, to be selected as the pace car. See Indypacecars.com for more information

The Found Caravan Corvette Club, Inc.sm, a New York State nonprofit corporation, was founded by Joanne and Michael Bevilacqua with the sole purpose of having Corvette friends from all over, getting together to share stories, traveling down the road, and sharing their experiences, without the hassles of meetings, rules, regulations, and politicking that befalls so many clubs. The FCCC, Inc.'s purpose, when it was conceived, was not to take the place of your local club or organization, but to provide an opportunity to step outside the box, meet new people, and travel the road with our Corvettes.

Caravan, cont. from various locations during the last weeks of August 2009, all timed to arrive for the National Corvette Museum's 15 th Anniversary Celebration on September 3-5, 2009.

In 3 previous caravans, thousands of Corvette devotees joined together from all over the globe to enjoy the experience, live the Corvette Lifestyle, create history and celebrate a unique Museum event. Labor Day weekend 2009 will mark the National Corvette Museum's 15th Anniversary; a period of time in which it's grown from a mere dream to the comprehensive organization you see today - the "Gateway to all things Corvette." Whether it's shows, fun events, archives, deliveries, track schools, corrals or just a casual visit, the Museum offers a varied experience, one that is unique within the automotive world. Add to that a road trip to top all others and you have the best 2 weeks you can imagine in 2009. We will be watching the Caravans and deciding which one will best accommodate our group. We had a ball in 2003—
